

4.6 Commencement of Proceeding for Child on Aftercare to Department of Juvenile Justice. Aftercare is a non-judicial administrative status granted to a child who is under an order of commitment to the Department of Juvenile Justice and has been released from confinement under the supervision of an employee of the Department. If such a child commits a new delinquent or an unruly offense, the case shall be handled by the juvenile court like any other complaint filed pursuant to the provisions of Sections 4 and 5 of the Uniform Rules For Juvenile Courts; provided, however, that the court officer handling the case may consult with the employee of the Department of Juvenile Justice responsible for providing supervision of the child for input prior to making a disposition of the case. If a child who is on aftercare violates the conditions of that aftercare and the violation does not constitute a delinquent or unruly offense, the child shall not be referred to the juvenile court for said violation. Violation of aftercare is not an offense and, therefore, is to be handled administratively by the Department of Juvenile Justice.
